Life here means many things —
Friendships built from small beginnings
Into memories to cherish always.
It means growth and change
Emerging from our shells
Removing our masks.

It means discovering new goals and dreams
Leaving old ones behind.

It Means Adjusting, Compromising
With Those Around Us.

It Means Sharing Ourselves
In Hope and Love.

Life Here Means Many Things.

HOMECOMING

MUSIC PRODUCTIONS

Top Left: Concert tour guest artist Vera Daehlin, world renowned percussionist, performed each night of the eight day tour.

During the course of the year, the California Lutheran College Music Department was very active in presenting many musical productions. The season began with the complete and unabridged version of George Frederic Handel's classic "The Messiah." The program consisted of the C.L.C. Concert Orchestra and the eighty voice Concert Choir, which featured eighteen soloists.

In December, the fifty voice Concert Choir, the All College Choir, Concert Orchestra, and the Concert Band presented the annual Christmas Concert. This program consisted of sacred music, favorite carols, and selections arranged for the Holiday Season. The combined effort of the music department, directed by Dr. C. Robert Zimmerman and conducted by Professor Elmer Ramsey, proved to be a beautiful tribute to the Holy Season.

Concert tour was a highlight of the year for choir and orchestra, as well as for those who enjoyed the concerts. This year, a tour of the southwest took the tour to Phoenix, Arizona, snowy Las Vegas, and through many Southern California cities. The tour ended with the concert at the Dorothy Chandler Pavillion at the Los Angeles Music Center. Vera Daehlin, this year's guest artist, and all of C.L.C.'s musicians were given a warm welcome by audiences at each performance.

In April the Easter season was ushered in by the presentation of the dramatic musical "Saint Matthews Passion" by J. S. Bach. The presentation was directed by Dr. Zimmerman and featured many excellent soloists as well as instrumentation as close to Bach's original production as possible.

Every other year, the Drama department offers a special dinner theatre performance. This year, Woody Allen's romantic comedy, "Play It Again, Sam" was directed by senior drama major, Rob Koon. The play revolved around a homely hero with a fascination for Humphrey Bogart; a hero who lacks Bogart's technique with women. With the help of his friends he tries to overcome this deficiency which provides the comic entertainment in this story.

"Brecht On Brecht" directed by Dr. Richard Adams used German author Bertolt Brecht as subject for a series of improvisations. The children's classic, "The Wizard of Oz" was performed three times during the month of November in the Little Theatre before touring the area's elementary schools. During interim, the Drama department hosted a musical revue of the life and music of Irving Berlin, a repeat performance of last year's successful presentation.

DRAMA PRODUCTIONS

"The Cat Princess," is a prize winning children's play about the greedy princess, Elaine, who wants the witch's cat because she believes it is magic. Elaine captures the cat but she is turned into a cat princess. With help from Morton, Twirl, and the jester, Elaine is saved. Through the experience, Elaine realizing her greed becomes a much better person. The performance was in March.

"The Crucible," performed in May, is an exciting drama about the Puritan purge of witchcraft in old Salem. The story tells how small lies build and build until the town is aroused and many people are sent to the gallows, for being possessed of the Devil. This historical drama by Arthur Miller was directed by Dr. Richard Adams.

ARTIST LECTURE

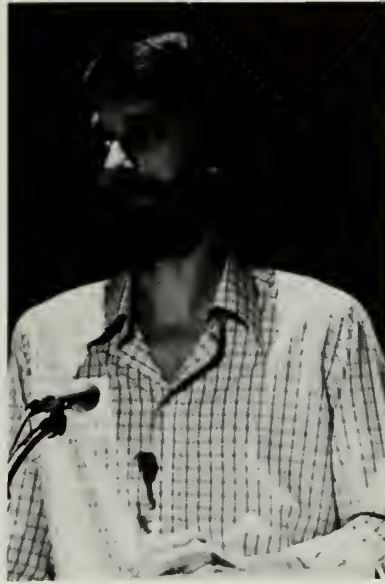

Tom Hayden headlined Artist/Lecture's slate of speakers in September when he challenged us to "Make the Future Ours." With activism as a way of life, and several books to his name, Hayden expressed his concern with the growth of corporate power and its influence on American life.

"In the Spotlight" was a series instigated by the Artist/Lecture Commission this year in an effort to recognize CLC's hidden talent.

The first concert debuted Keith Butenshon and Lindrew Johnson, both seniors, performing to a capacity crowd. They each are in the process of launching professional music careers and took the opportunity to spotlight a few of their original melodies on the CLC stage.

Fans packed into the SUB for a standing room only crowd awaiting the talent of CLC freshman, Jim Stone. Stone encouraged audience participation with rowdy enthusiasm for Neil Young, Rolling Stones, and more.

Apparently to The New Shakespeare Company, "all the world's a stage" as was clearly evidenced by their political satire, Midsummer Nights Dream in early October.

Later that month Jean-Michel Cousteau entertained the C.L.C. community with a speech emphasizing the potential of our underwater resources. His Multi-media presentation was meaningful and prompted a wide variety of questions.

Ted Howard, the author of Who Can Play God? addressed the issue of genetic engineering with startling facts and statistics showing concerned insight into the future.

Startling could not begin to describe Dick Gregory's lecture in February, which drew the year's largest crowd. His side splitting humor prologued his intense message about truth (or lack of it), manipulation, and the games people play. His three hour lecture challenged us to solve many unanswered questions.

Another well known author, Flora Rheta Schreiber, spoke about the details and influences of her best-selling book, Sybil. Her real life contact with a woman who once possessed sixteen personalities gave her unique insight into human nature which was expressed in her book as well as in her lecture.

The musical talents of classical guitarist, Miguel Rubio, took center stage during the month of March. His music possesses the essence of his Spanish origins as he tours the nation annually.

March also brought Rosemary Reuter to the C.L.C. community. Her inspiring question "Does Christian Theology subjugate or liberate women?" opened up quite a few eyes to the churches attitude toward the women's role.

Artist Lecture presented quite a variety of entertaining movies this year including Heroes, Smokey and the Bandit, The Goodbye Girl, Turning Point, Oh, God! and Big Wednesday.

The In the Spotlight series began the semester with a multi-media comedy evening presented by Doug Ramsey and Rob Koon. Both men have served as integral parts of the drama department's recipe for success during the past four years and brought a fraction of their natural humor to the stage.

Kathy Johnson and Carrie Stelzner combined their talents to fill one of the segments in the series late in March. Both music majors gleamed with enthusiasm from when the lights flashed on until the evening ended.

Bonnie Pinkerton rounded out the program in April with a musical performance including piano and guitar accompaniment.

A WORSHIPING COMMUNITY

The Chapel theme first semester centered around The Prophets. Second semester chapel focused on the theme Building Up The Body In Love. Midweek worshipers were inspired by such speakers as Dean Kragthorpe, Carl and Ruth Segerhammer, and Howie Wennes.

A spirit — alive, glowing, moving. This is the vital energy behind the religious activities at CLC. We have met challenges which each of us must face. We have been led to rejoice in our Lord and share that joy with all we meet. Through fascinatingly diverse methods, we have learned much and continue to benefit from what we have been taught. Each experience had contributed in its special way to life in the community of CLC. The many events sponsored by RASC and the New Earth fill the mind with thoughts, the heart with song, and the soul with that spirit which makes us one.

CHRISTMAS AT THE LU

Traditionally the Lucia Bride represents the woman who is most actively involved in Christian service. This years Lucia Bride honor goes to Jennifer Besser. The 1978 Lucia Bride Court is: Senior Diane Bannerman, Junior Sara Christenson, Sophomore Lynne Robertson, Lucia Bride Jennifer Besser, and Freshman Lisa Owens.

Christmas at the LU is a festive season brightly trimmed with many holiday activities, including Dorm caroling contests, a pilgrimage to the nativity scene, the traditional Lucia Bride celebration, and the Christmas Dance. Christmas at CLC is above all, a time of joy and celebration of the birth of our Lord, Christ Jesus.

FOUNDERS DAY

FOUNDERS DAY CONVOCATION

Carl and Ruth Segerhammar, founding Fellows of California Lutheran College, have devoted a lifetime of service to the Church and higher education. They were honored at the Founders Day Convocation, October 27, 1978, when they were presented with the Distinguished Service Award.

In accepting the award, the third bestowed by the College to recognize outstanding service to the Church and higher education, the Segerhammar's shared the speakers platform and reminisced about their 46 years of marriage and service.

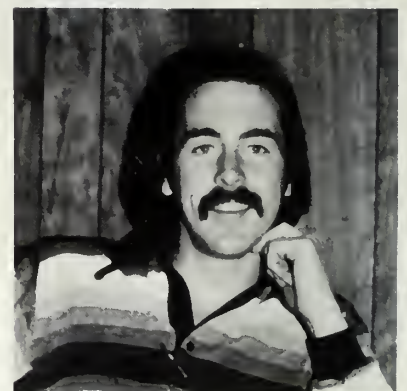

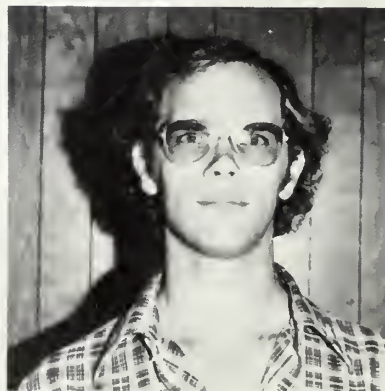

COLLOQUIM OF SCHOLARS

On May 4, 1979, Dr. Robert N. Bellah was the guest lecturer for the Colloquim of Scholars. The Colloquim of Scholars recognizes academic excellence among the student body, and honors faculty from neighboring colleges and universities who have excelled in their field.

This past year was one which will be in the minds of the American people for years to come. It was also a year that CLC students will recall, for both its tragedies and accomplishments. Television and newspapers let us witness the news around the world, and at home; the worst aviation disaster in U.S. history in San Diego, the People's Temple leader Jim Jones led over 900 of his followers to their deaths, and the Agoura fire which left many people in a desperate state.

We marveled at the election of the first non-Italian Pope, and breathed easier as the two most significant countries of the mid-east — Israel and Egypt sat down at the peace table to iron out their differences.

In sports, USC continued Pac 10 dominance and won the Rose Bowl, and the Dallas Cowboys lost a spectacular Super Bowl 13. Athletics at CLC saw the balloon pop for the football team with the forfeit to the University of San Diego. Yet at the same time the women's Cross Country team had a tremendous year with a 15-0 record.

Around campus, the construction of Olsen Road and the New Dorms began while the Learning Resource Center remained in the planning stage, something students have been getting used to. Local housing construction also continues bringing the greatly expanding city of Thousand Oaks closer and closer to our once semi-isolated campus.

The death of Janet Louise Pope shocked the campus, leading all to once again realize how precious life is and how senselessly it is often ended.

Many students from CLC along with others in the community participated in the CROP Walk for Hunger, raising money to bring food to the hungry of the world.

In short, this year has been a year of many headlines in world news, awaring us of those around us, and a continuous growth of both the facilities and minds of all concerned at CLC.

FOOTBALL

1978 was another in a long line of highly successful seasons for the CLC Kingsmen. Only a narrow 15-12 loss on the road to Cal State University at Chico marred a perfect record on the field.

An off the field loss due to an ineligible player resulted in CLC forfeiting its win over the University of San Diego. The eligibility ruling most likely kept CLC out of the N.A.I.A. playoffs.

The "Year of the Kings" saw CLC in exile from the playoffs despite a great record verse outstanding teams. CLC won eight straight games and was tabbed #9 nationally in the final NAIA poll.

Senior Captains Dan Buckley and Tom O'Brien made All-American honors, and Buckley was honored as Southern Calif. Defensive Player of the Year. Captain Sid Grant was given the "Don Garrison Hitter of the Year" award. Other honored players were Dan Craviotto, Mark Weber, John Craviotto, Craig Fulladosa, and Mike Hagen.

An excellent coaching staff headed by veteran Bob Shoup gained him "District Coach of the Year" honors and CLC was named District champions as well.

Senior Paul Odden led in scoring with 59 points, closely followed by receiver Mike Hagan with 58.

The two biggest wins came at the expense of the University of Redlands and St. Mary's University, both on the road. CLC slipped by Redlands 28-26 and was awesome in demolishing the Gaels 38-6. Both Redlands and St. Mary's had very successful seasons.

The season came to a close as the weary Kingsmen held out to beat San Francisco State 28-20. CLC traveled 5,000 miles and played before 33,000 spectators. K.G.O.E. radio covered the team at home and on the road. Twenty two seniors played their last season. In their four years at CLC, they lost only six games.

The team was very well balanced, scoring 31 points a game, with a total of 1,800 yards rushing and 2,072 passing. The defense gave up just 37.9 yards per game on the ground and intercepted 31 passes. 1978 set a high standard of excellence in the reign of the KINGS.

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

Jeff Jierle, a world class runner himself, coached the cross country team this year. As Jierle put it, "We came to campus in September very young and very out of shape." For that reason the team spent most of the year training and preparing for the District finals in hopes of qualifying for the National Championships. Thus the season was not filled with many fantastic performances due to the fact that they would go into competition dead tired.

Placing 3rd at the Chapman Invitational was the highlight of the year, followed by a 5th place finish at the District meet. These were the two best efforts of the year.

Chuck Nichols had an outstanding season being the #1 runner throughout the season. Being a freshman, this gives Nichols 3 more seasons with the Kingsmen, and possible "All-American" honors down the road.

WOMENS' CROSS COUNTRY

prepared for CLC's first intercollegiate womens' cross country team this year, he found a mixture of ingredients with which to work. There were several upper-classwomen who had run long distance in track, a sprinter, and some hopeful prospects in the freshmen group.

That was more than enough. This group of talented young women ended the season 15-0 against small colleges and placed tenth in the AIAW Regionals in Long Beach.

Julie Wulff, the only senior on the team, led the Regals in the regional competition and was the top finisher among small colleges. Julie holds the school record in both the mile and half mile.

Laurie Hagopian finished four seconds behind Wulff in the 5,000 meter race at Long Beach and looks to be the top runner next season. Laurie holds the CLC course record of 19:39, and all college records for two miles and up.

The Soccer team this year was led under the fine leadership of coach Peter Schraml and captain Moy Serrano. Although the record was not overwhelming, hard work and dedication mixed in the sheer joy of athletics has and will continue to move the C.L.C. soccer program up the ladder of success. The Lettermen this year were: Ted Ayers, Steven Carling, Frank Espegren, Brad Folkestad, Joe Hammer, Mark Iverson, Michael Lee, Pat McGrandy, Diep Nguyen, Francis Okyerf, Mark Paulson, Cris Roberts, Dave Schmidt, Moy Serrano, Scot Stormo, and Randy Wagner.

WOMENS CROSS COUNTRY-10TH A.I.A.W.

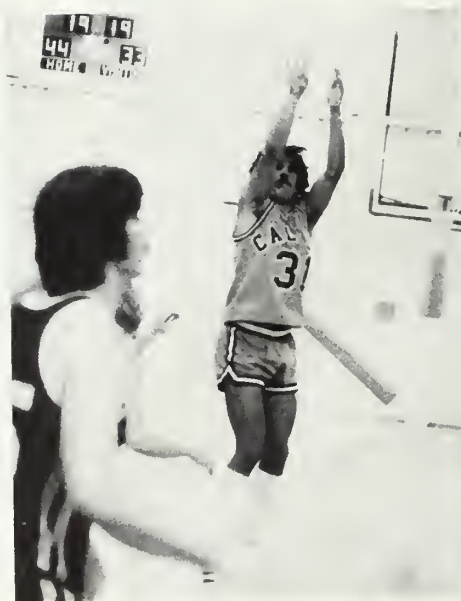

Coach Dale Smith's Women's Cross Country team finished 15-0, this their first year in inter-collegiate competition, against all other small colleges.

Russ Peterson, (above) finds the range for two more points. Mark Caestaker (above right) accurately guards the ball over a would-be defender.

The Kingsmens' preseason revealed hopeful talent for the coming season. With tough scrimmages against Pepperdine University as well as local colleges, the Kingsmen felt confident going into their only tournament in Utah. Coming out with a second place trophy, the Kingsmen anticipate "high" hopes for league play. Above: Hank "Lloyd" Smith's unique yet perfect shooting form prevails once more. Above Right: Chris Bavalles shows us the art of the "follow-through" as Cary Hegg (right) waits anxiously for an important rebound.

GOLF

The golf team coached by Bob Shoup goes pretty much unnoticed around campus because they both practice and perform off campus. Home matches and tournaments are held at the Los Robles golf course in Thousand Oaks. The 1979 members were: captain Phil Norby, Mark Vandalingham, Jeff Fender, Mike Bremmer, Mark Erion, Alan Cudahy, Jeff Berg, and Larry Davis.

The Women's Basketball Team, The Regals, under the direction of Coach Nancy Trego had a building year this year. The team has only two returning players and a very promising future with seven freshmen. The squad had an excellent preseason and made a good showing in league play despite injuries, and a lack in numbers. Team work and dedication led the Regal Hoopsters on to victory. Right on!!

MENS' VOLLEYBALL

WOMENS' BASKETBALL

No group has more heart than the CLC Regals Basketball team. The 1978-79 season was a disappointment in terms of win-loss record, but showed a lot of work put in by each and every player. The team's greatest difficulty was in size, both in quantity and physical size.

The team started out strong, winning its first four games before being handed its first loss. Loss of players, illnesses, and injuries constantly kept the full squad somewhat depleted. In spite of this, the Regals played some fine, close ball games.

The teams' Captain, junior Ginny Green, is a returning player from last year's team along with sophomore Lisa Roberts. The rest of the team was made complete by all freshmen: Debbie Clark, Jill Thompson, Barbara Avery, Carol Ludiche, Pam Young, and Sheryl Crater. Joining the Regals for part of the season was freshmen Molly Arthur. The team was led in scoring by Debbie Clark and Barbara Avery, and in rebounding by Debbie Clark and Jill Thompson.

With the entire team able to return next year, the CLC Regals can look forward to a much improved season for 1979-80.

WRESTLING

Through time conflicts, ineligibilities, and injuries the CLC wrestling team came through with flying colors.

Throughout the year the team had been continually plagued with injuries. But other factors contributed to the high numbers of participants out of competition, which according to some sources, ranged as high as fifteen or more.

It seems that time conflicts and ineligibilities kept quite a few team members from wrestling on a regular basis. In fact, only five wrestlers both started and finished the season.

Only freshmen Sonny Medina, Dale Christensen, Greg Ronning, and seniors Scott Solberg and Lance Marcus lasted out the entire season to make an excellent showing in the National Qualifier Tournament held at CLC on February 3, 1979.

Both Solberg, at 147 lbs., and Greg Ronning, at 177 lbs., won their respective divisions. With their impressive victories they won spots to compete at the NAIA National Tournament.

Lance Marcus at 167 lbs., who was the team's best competitor at an earlier tournament in San Francisco, captured the second spot in his divisions, and accompanied Solberg and Ronning to the nationals.

WOMENS' VOLLEYBALL

1978-79 found the CLC Regals Volleyball team to be a young but spirited group. With only one returning player, senior Sandi Enriquez, the team lacked depth and experience but showed great potential for the 79-80 season. The players were: Freshmen — Molly Arthur, Barbara Avery, Debbie Clark, Mary Langeland, Carol Ludiche, Beth Rockliffe, and Terri Wallace. Sophomores — Leanne Bosch and Lisa Roberts. Junior — Ginny Green. Seniors — Sandi Enriquez and Rhondi Pinkstaff.

The Regals had several all around players who gave stability and strength to the team effort. Debbie Clark and Leanne Bosch, along with Lisa Roberts used their consistent attack and defense effectively. Beth Rockliffe, selected to the CCAC All-Conference second team, showed poise and confidence in the difficult role of starter in the 5-1 offense. Rounding out the first string was the strong attack of Sandi Enriquez and Carol Ludiche. Used in various positions, the rest of the Regals gave their all when put to the task.

The Regals finished fourth in the CCAC with a 5-7 league record. Overall, the team was 8-9 for the season.

MENS' TENNIS

The 1979 Mens' Tennis Team was probably the toughest in CLC's history. Second year coach Grant Smith put forth much effort in recruiting players for this years team. Freshmen John Whipple and Dave Trinkle played the two and three spots behind returning sophomore Dave Ikola. Inspired by commanding victories over Loyola, Westmont, and Whittier early in the season, the Kingsmen netters found it hard to lose. Juniors Rob Sutherland, Rick Bier, Allen Cudahey, Captain Jim Rower, and sophomore Bruce Cudahey round out the squad. All members will be returning next year to make the 1980 team even stronger.

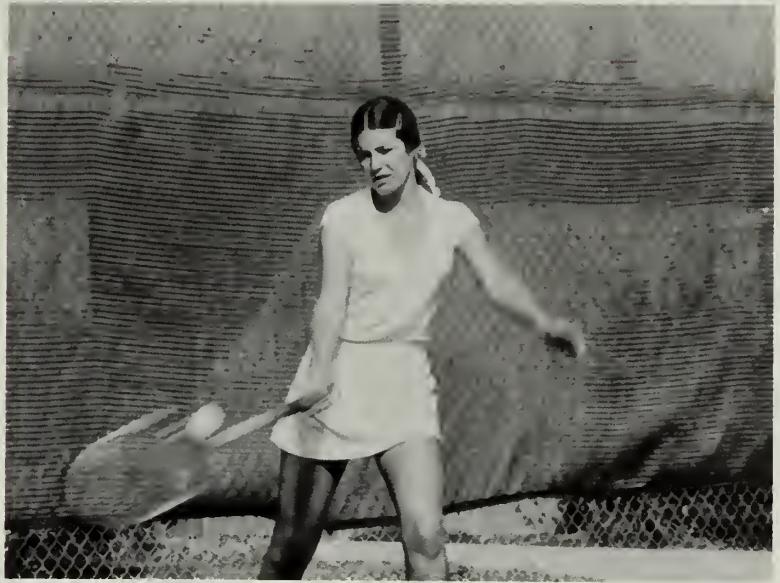

Coach Grant Smith

The 1979 Womens' Tennis Team is: Captain Karen Newmeyer, Tina Tseng, Mary Beth Swansen, Melissa Decker, Irene Hull, Eve Wessling, Kathy Jones, Lynn Meineke, Pam Johnson, and Diane Bannerman. John Seimens was the Womens' tennis coach.

WOMENS' TENNIS

The Regals' netters looked forward to their most successful season ever in 1979. Last years team returned intact and was bolstered by a tough and experienced group of freshmen.

The Regals Tennis Team carried the strong finish of '78 into the '79 season to end the season just as strong if not stronger than the previous year.

Irene Hull, Mary Beth Swanson, Karen Newmeyer, and Tina Tseng were strong performers this year.

 Shelly Riolo, and Jan Hooten. The coach was the ever positive Dale Smith.

MENS' VOLLEYBALL

In 1978, in only its second season of competition, CLC's Volleyball team finished fourth in the NAIA National Championships. Coming off of last years 17-3 record, volleyball had all of last year's starters returning, plus the addition of several promising freshmen and transfers. Spearheading the returning starters were middle hitters Steve Carmichael and Dave Blessing, backed by Cary Hegg, Scott Sorensen, Kevin McKenzie, Dave Taylor and Mark Petersen at the outside hitter spots. They were supported by strong Rex Kennison, freshman Bob Graves, and Dave Puls.

MENS' BASKETBALL

The 1978-79 Cal Lu basketball season was a confident one. Even with the loss of last year's outstanding seniors, Dave Blessing and Brad Reed, the Kingsmen had a significant amount of talent and desire to win.

Defensive moves, offensive quickness and ball handling were among key points the team relied on for it's success. Not blessed with a "big, inside man," the Kingsmen offense was geared for a smaller, yet relatively quick team. The "big man's part" was filled with a new three forward offense.

Among the team's talents was the excellent ball handling of the guards, often referred to as the best in the league. When called upon, the Kingsmen guards turned in clutch performances all season. Mark Caestaker, Dave Taylor, Russ Petersen, Kevin Karkut, Chris Bavalles filled the guard positions effectively and successfully.

However, the Kingsmen did have their problems. Aside from not winning all the time, Mike Eubanks, leading scorer with a 23 point average, was declared ineligible. But the team pulled tight and played together with much intensity.

The winter tournament was an exciting experience as the players traveled to Utah for a two day tourney.

Although the season didn't go quite the way many expected next year holds potential for a much improved team. Losing only one senior, Steve Carmichael, whose sharp shooting will be missed, the team will be able to concentrate on improving themselves as a whole.

TRACK

The 1979 Kingsmen track team was a young one with many talented freshmen on the squad. The team was captained by senior Don Myles, an outstanding javelin thrower and a National Qualifier as a Sophomore with a best throw, (and school record), of 219'1". Chris Ortiz was the other captain while only a junior. Chris was the team's Decathlon star and also a past National Qualifier.

The young track team, under the experienced coaching of Don Green, demonstrated what a positive attitude and work can do. In the opening Orange Invitational at Chapman College the team took second out of nine schools.

BASEBALL

A strong defense and good pitching were the highlights of the 79 Kingsmen squad. The team featured eight returning Lettermen headed by 6'8" senior pitcher Tom Clubb, who didn't give up a single earned run during pre-season winter competition. Clubb as expected, was the ace throughout the year. Roger Baker, a fine sophomore hurler from Rio Mesa High, also turned in some exceptional performances. Joe Ochoa, Steve Chambers, and left hander Rick Shoup also saw action on the hill.

Catching was a real strength for CLC with 180 lb. Letterman receiver Ron Smith. Ron demonstrated an outstanding arm and swung a fine bat. Steve Dann shared catching honors while helping out at third. The other catcher was senior Paul Odden.

CLC opened the season with a convincing 8-3 win over the Alumni. The Kingsmen pitching staff only allowing four hits while banging out eight hits paced by catcher Ron Smith's solo homer and shortstop Jack Willard's single and double.

BASEBALL

INTRAMURALS

Intramurals are very big on the CLC campus. They range from flag-football, basketball, volleyball, etc. to over-the-line baseball. This year's director was Rick Bier. Although intramurals are meant to de-emphasize competition, it is quite clear when watching CLC students participate, that they not only have fun but are very competitive while doing so.

"Being involved throughout my life in both the church and athletics, I've found that my experience at the Lu has been one in which both are interwoven with the education process. I've been able to continue my athletic career, something that would have been most likely ended with graduation in high school had I gone on to a larger state university."

I feel that in the last four years I've not only matured a great deal, but have also been able to develop a perspective on life with Jesus Christ as the center that is unique to a church related college. Although Cal Lutheran is not a Bible college, it has offered an opportunity while continuing my education to do so in an environment which allows Christian expression."

"Most People describe me as a critic and an inquirer. I view these terms in a positive sense, for they provide the tension necessary for a healthy, growing relationship with the college. I believe self examination is a necessary ongoing process, and that growth and change are constant."

"To me, education is not merely storing information for future use. It is a process in which we learn to seek, sort, and critically examine information. Education is also learning to live with people. These past two years we have watched the college tackle the theme "Towards a Just and Sustainable Society." I believe our future will be a struggle as the nations of the world seek the basic rights for all their people, such as a right to food. I believe that my education was greatly furthered by foreign travel. Visiting ten nations during my four years has had significant impact on my values, and how I perceive the world."

"You never saw me competing on the athletic fields, in a foreign language class, performing on stage, or consistently on the Dean's list. But because of the basic philosophy expressed at the Lu, I was able to turn myself on to more area's than I ever thought possible. Areas such as psychology, Moche Art, politics, or radio."

"As I finished my senior year, I was too late in realizing our declining emphasis on the arts. As I watch the surrounding community develop around the college, it becomes obvious that we have no appreciation for the natural forms of the land."

"My wish would be that everyone realizes their potential as a unique child of God, and that they express the Christ that is within them."

"We all have had many experiences at Cal Lu that have contributed to the persons we are now and will become in the future. As for myself, I have tried to look at every experience, whether it be joyous or disappointing, as a learning process, as lessons to be discovered and remembered in the following years to come. I feel that CLC has given me the opportunity to search out, discover and fulfill my own individual needs and interests."

"Music has always played an important part in my life and it has continued so throughout my four years here. Playing the piano and singing in Concert Choir each year are my own special ways of sharing my joy and myself with others." "I also feel it is important to be constantly aware and sensitive to the people and world around us. Through my Political Science classes I have been able to discover and question events with the full support of the professors. The highlight of my academic career however was my participation in the Los Angeles Urban Semester Program. Through this program I was able to get first hand experience in the field of government that I eventually would like to get into; valuable experience which cannot be taught in a classroom."

"All of these experiences and so many more have led to a busy but exciting life at the Lu. They have been years that won't soon be forgotten."

As graduation draws near I think back on my four years I spent at Cal Lutheran. Those years I'll remember — panty raids, Hall monitors, the pit, football games, Afton Animals, and cafeteria food, all remain in my memory, some good and some bad.

Time passes too quickly, time becomes short when you have a lot of things you want to do. My time spent here at Cal Lu was a time to learn and grow, I did, and I'm thankful for it. It is always easy to complain and point out the little things that bother you about "The Lu". Yet, when you get right down to it Cal Lu has something very special — the people, I hope all of them can enjoy and get as much out of this school as I did, it's worth it.

Kathy Burkhalter will best remember CLC by the friends and the good times she made. The 5'10"

Queen has brown hair and brown eyes and is a native of Ridgecrest, California. She plans to graduate with a special education major, hoping to someday teach the deaf and blind. Kathy has previously been an assistant to the Education Department at CLC. She looks forward to her June wedding.

Queen Kathy Burkhalter and escort Dave Stanely, Senior Princess Renae Ahlness and escort Don Richardson.

Right: CLC boasts of an equal 50% women, 50% men enrollment. Left: Nearly 95% of those that apply to law school are accepted, and between 60-70% of pre-science students get accepted into grad school.

50% of all male students participate in athletics

Bottom: On the intercollegiate level, women compete in five sports, men in nine. Top: CLC's religion requirement is two classes, plus a third class in religion or philosophy. Chapel and other worship opportunities are voluntary.

48% of CLC students are non-Lutheran

Top: President Potsie Weber and the CLC Honor Society at their annual fund raiser car wash. Right: The Movie "Animal House" inspired a fall Toga party, sponsored by the Afton Animals. Here Steve Bogan models the "latest" in Toga attire. Far Right: Food fights were on a decrease in the cafeteria.

Top: Professor Fred Bonkers was dismissed from the CLC faculty for his frequent violation of the faculty dress code. Harshness of the alcohol policy was relieved by the local pub.

TEXAS
LUTHERAN COLLEGE

'Twas five days before Christmas when all through the Lu
 Not an administrator was stirring not even Mark who?
 The faculty were struggling over their grades with care
 And the Registrar's office hoped they soon would be there.

The students were headed home for a break
 And the Student Affairs Office had had all they could take
 With Admissions in transit and Timmons in his apps
 Had just put the budget in a financial relapse

When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter
 Was someone using the pedestrian bridge or what was the matter?

Away to Buchanan we flew like a flash
 Only to find him counting the cash.
 We sought for an answer from the Communications crew
 But they were unglued another deadline was due.

The Development Office could shed little light
 Since the year and mailout they were all out of sight.
 The Bookstore was busy with Christmas sales
 Altho some things never arrived — what with the mails.

When what to our wondering eyes should appear
 But a CLC van pulled by eight reindeer,
 With a jolly driver happy as a lark
 We knew in a moment it must be St. Mark.

More rapid than Kingsmen his coursers they came
 And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:

Now, Della . . . Now Borgny,
 Now Kragthorpe and Cooper.
 On Meyer, on Buchanan
 On Schramm and Hamm.
 To the top of Mt. Clef
 To the new Oaks mall . . .
 Now dash away, dash away, dash away all.

As dry tumbleweeds that before the Santa Anas fly
 When they meet with an obstacle mount to the sky,
 So up to the ad building the coursers they rode
 With a van full of tennis balls attached to the load.

And then in a twinkling we heard on the grounds
The caterpillars and tractors making their rounds.

As we drew in our heads and were turning around,
We saw the library staff come with a bound.
They were excited and gleeful as they hurried on foot,
If the new center was going up, they sure wanted a look.

Alas . . . at the Health Center the flu was back
And the nurses were busy going through their act,
Their eyes . . . how they watered, their legs . . . how weary,
For them the days were long and so dreary.

The food service was busy preparing the last meal
Confident the kids were getting a good deal.
Facilities was busy checking for leaks
Hoping the place would settle down for a couple of weeks.

In Graduate Studies and continuing Ed
The computer spit out they had nothing to dread.
In Student Activities and the Women's Center
They were preparing a request for a senior mentor.

With laughter, voices, and sounds of mirth,
Were Marvie and Jerry entertaining at the New Earth?
Lois spoke not a word, but went straight to her work
And answered all calls, then turned with a jerk.

She saw President Mathews with his MBOs
And heard him say, "We will meet all of our goals."
He Sprang to his van — to his team gave a whistle
They all took off like a high powered missile.

And we heard him exclaim as they rode out of sight —

Merry Christmas
to all . . .

And to all . . .
